Logical Framework Matrix (LFM) REPORT of Tyumen State University (TSU) Nr. 4

for period

MARCH 2015 – JUNE 2015

of the project:

Tempus Project No. 544117 InterEULawEast

Made by *Internal quality committee*¹ of:

Marina Shunevich, postgraduate student enrolled at Tyumen State University (e-mail: marina.igorevna72@gmail.com)

Sergei Stepanov, postgraduate student enrolled at Tyumen State University (e-mail: sergey-u29@mail.ru)

LFM Report for:

1) Wider Objective

- a) What kind of work did your institution undergo regarding the creation of a curriculum and acceptance of the new masters' degree?

During the reporting period, TSU was actively involved in the development of the Project. For instance, TSU representatives took part in some key events relating to the creation of a curriculum and acceptance of the new master's degree such as the 4th Project Coordination Meeting in Riga (Latvia, 30 March 2015), International Forum «Educational and cultural area of the commonwealth of independent states: development vectors» in Voronezh (Russia, 12-14th May 2015). Also, it should be indicated that for the purpose of familiarizing TSU students with history, aims and objectives of the Project a student fair took place on 3 June at TSU. As for creation of the disciplines allocated to TSU as a result of the Kazan Conference (November 2014), the work in this direction has been going as planned.

- b) Which and how many documents did your institution prepared?

- 1. Analytical report on the results of the study regarding students' interest in the training program of double diplomas (counting the number of potential participants, the study of the wishes of students relating to the practical issues of implementation of the program, etc.)*
- 2. Timesheets and conventions (for researchers);*

2) Specific Project Objectives

- a) Do you think that awareness and knowledge on the International and European law in your partner institution has increased due to the project?

In the framework of participation in the project teaching staff, students, and other experts of the Institute consistently show interest in developing a training program, they are actively involved in its development and put forward practical suggestions on ways to implement the program of double diplomas. This fact certainly shows the substantially increased interest in teaching and learning of disciplines of international and European law.

- b) Has your institution being involved in creating and innovative curriculum of new master's degree program and on how many occasions experts from your institution took part in discussions regarding the development of the new curricula?

In the previous report we've mentioned the list of developed disciplines (for TSU). Now our working group University teaching staff, graduate students, experts in the theory and practice are actively engaged in the development of curricula for the approved disciplines.

- c) Has your institution been involved in preparing new teaching materials, courses like summer courses, a conferences, etc. (provide also numbers and examples)?

- 4th Project Coordination Meeting took place at Socialo Tehnologiju Augstskola Riga, Latvia, EU
 - 2 representatives of TSU (Marochkin Sergei and Svetlana Racheva) took part in working meetings to resolve the current issues of the project, as well as discussions on co-financing questions and summing subtotals of the Tempus project
- International forum „Educational and cultural area of the commonwealth of independent states: development vectors“ Voronezh, 12-14th May 2015
 - the event was attended by two representatives of the Institute: Kislitsina Olga and Mylnikova Irina. The meeting was of great practical importance, representatives of universities were able to share experiences
 - specialists of the Institute regularly conduct such events, the purpose of which is to inform students and maintain their interest in international projects. At the meetings, there are teachers, students, participants of various international programs and visitors interested in the international programs TSU including the Tempus project

- d) How often your institution update the relevant web site of the project?

In order to optimize the information processes web page of the Institute moved to the site of the TSU as a separate section. This section contains all the necessary information about the activities of the Institute, including news about participation in the Tempus project, as well as a link to the <http://iele.weebly.com/>

All the news on a regular basis (every month) is updated on the website of the TSU.

3) Work Package 1 – Curriculum Development in International and European Law

- a) What kind and how many (times) your institution exchange experiences among staff of partners universities for collecting good practices and learning experiences (mention also if you use web sites in this respect, documentary evidences, ...)

Representatives of the Institute have regularly discussed the current project activities (correspondence with colleagues via e-mail, personal meetings during the meetings in Riga and Voronezh).

- b) Did your institution discuss the curriculum proposal and are there documents in this respect (please state what kind and how many)?

TSU representatives discuss relevant curriculum proposals on a regular basis. As has been mentioned in the previous report, TSU is involved in the development of the disciplines allocated to TSU during the Kazan Conference. That is why documents in this respect usually have to do with the disciplines TSU has been working on. It needs to be pointed out that there is always a lecturer or a group of lecturers of the Institute responsible for the development of each discipline. Because of this, such discussions are crucial.

- c) What kind of activities your institution undergo (and how many) regarding series of guest lectures (state also numbers of events, participants, lecturers, etc).

N/y

4) Work Package 2 – Creation of Centers for European and International Law “Tempus”

- a) Has your institution created a Centre for European and international law “Tempus”?
N/a
- b) How many literature, access to databases, periodic, etc. have been purchased for the Centre? As has been mentioned in the previous report, the Institute already developed a list of recommended and available literature necessary for the study of European and international law. This list contains all the necessary requisites of literature, the location of the books (or links to online resources, including both InterEuLawEast journals). The list is regularly updated.
- c) Does the Centre update web site and is it regularly updated?
N/a
- d) Are scientific papers available for download from the web site and how many?
N/a
- e) Do master students make use of the Centre and how often (if possible define also how many students)?
N/a

5) Work Package 3 – Capacity Building for Master Tutors

- a) Have experts from your institution taking part of any course within the project (or directly related to project) and how many?
- As mentioned, Marochkin Sergei and Racheva Svetlana took part in the 4th Project Coordination Meeting taken place at Socialo Tehnologiju Augstskola Riga, Latvia, EU.*
 - Mylnikova Irina presented at the International forum „Educational and cultural area of the commonwealth of independent states: development vectors“ Voronezh, 12-14th May 2015.*
 - Also a lot of TSU stuff participated in the student fair (TSU international projects - opportunities and prospects (June 3, 2015)).*
- b) Are materials of the above courses available on your web site from your institution?
All information on the participation of the Institute in the project, about the possibilities and prospects of its development are available in the news section and links on the web page of the Tempus project.
- c) Are experts for your institution aware of capacity building purpose of the courses?
Yes. Capacity building purpose of the courses organized within the Project as well as modernization and improvement of legal education the Project is aimed at are well understood.

6) Work Package 4 – Implementation of Curricula

- a) Have your institution provided necessary steps for the accreditation of the master program and prepared relevant documents in this respect?
Accreditation of educational programs in Russia is a multi-step process, and experts from the institute carefully take all the necessary actions.
- b) Has your institution provided primary set of students to be enrolled in the new master program?
As has been emphasized above, on 3 June 2015 a student fair dedicated to the development of the Project was held at TSU. Thus all TSU students are well informed about the participation of the Institute in the Project and the prospects of education in the framework of the double diplomas. The exact number of students who wish to study under the Programme is, however, not clear. At the same time, students' interest towards the Project was substantial which was obvious both at the student fair and special surveys conducted before and described in the previous report.

- c) Has your institute provided necessary scholar ship (how many) for students from Ukraine and Russia?

As has been shown in the previous report, this issue will be resolved in the future. A decision will depend on the financial ability of universities as well as agreements which Tempus project participants will make and so on.

7) Work Package 5 – Dissemination

- a) Have your partner institution organised any conference within the project in that period of the project?

N/a

- b) How many lectures have been performed in the conference?

N/a

- c) How many participants were at the conference?

N/a

- d) Are materials and papers from the conferences available on the internet site of the project?

N/a.

- e) How many hours lasted the conference?

N/a.

8) Work Package 6 – Project Management

- a) Have your institution designed the web page of the project where all logos and links to the main page of the project are also present?

The official website of the Institute contains a link to the site of the project by having the logo of Tempus. Link is located in the section of the Institute of State and Law, it is easily accessible and convenient to use.

- b) Does your institution update web page regularly (please, define)?

Project information is updated monthly. In addition, news, information about events, meetings and conferences, announcements and more timely updated on the website of the university.

- c) Are all materials from conferences, summer courses, etc. easy accessible from this internet site?

All the necessary information and materials on the web page can be found in the news section of the website of the University and through the crossing site logo on the Tempus project

- d) Does your institution prepare reports on the project progress and how regularly?

Representatives of the Institute prepare a report on the current activities of the Institute every 3 months, the researchers fill the Conventions and Timesheets. At the time of this report, the specialists of the Institute were presented timesheets and conventions for the period until the end of March 2015, taking into account all the changes and especially the rights of co-financing.

9) Work Package 7 – Quality Control

- a) Does your institution take part of the meeting of the internal evaluation committee? How many persons are taking part of this meetings from your institution?

As customary, TSU internal evaluation committee member arrange no personal meetings, but they are always in touch with one another through internet correspondence.

- b) Are experts from your institution aware of internal evaluation committee and its role in your institution?

Yes, they are. Internal Evaluation Committee plays a major role in order to get an objective and comprehensive evaluation of TSU as a Project member. Timely coordination of the participants to achieve the goals and objectives of the Project is within competence of the Committee as well.

10) Work Package 8 – Sustainability

- a) Has your partner institution been involved in in the preparation of joint curriculum and implementation of the joint tax books “European law”?

Our Institute, as has been said, took an active role in developing the list of disciplines for double degree program. Also, as indicated in the previous report TSU has been working on the development of the following disciplines:

- Legal philosophy;
- Business foreign language in Law;
- History of political and legal doctrines;
- History and methodology of judicial science;
- Comparative Law;
- Dispute resolution in International and European Law.

In addition, currently there is a defined list of topics for the textbook and members of the working group of the TSU, who are responsible for the writing of these sections of the textbook (independently or with colleagues from other Russian university participating in the project).

- b) How many experts from your institution have been involved?

The number of specialists is not exact. It is possible to get more teachers involved.

- c) Has your institution signed the cooperation agreement between the beneficiaries/universities in the project?

N/y.

- d) Is it copy of such agreement properly archived?

All documents of the Institute are stored and catalogued in accordance with the rules established by the legislation of the Russian Federation, as well as local acts of the University.

- e) Has your institution implemented the new master program? How long has it took to get the accreditation and full implementation of the program?

As indicated earlier in the previous report the accreditation decision is made based on the conclusion of the government expert group. This process is multistage. In order to fill out an application form for accreditation the Institute must fully develop the curriculum program and collect all the necessary documents. In this sense the meeting in Riga on 30 March 2015 was of great help because steps to be undertaken in local accreditation were discussed in detail.

Conclusions

Please, state any remarks regarding the project, regarding monitoring of the progress of the activities and any proposal for corrective measures:

On the one hand, all the Project members have started to work on a substance of particular disciplines of the new Master program. On the other hand, The Project Journal effectively summarizes all the efforts made and shows directions for further progress. The mentioned indicates both success the Project has and a growing necessity to get students involved by telling them more about the Project. In this respect, in our opinion, student fairs (which have already been organized by some Project members, including TSU) were successful, become especially important and should be conducted on a regular basis. It also should be underlined that the Project is focused on finding ways to be in line with today's needs of Russian higher education. This is a significant factor for TSU as a Russian University.
